THE G. A. R. FOR STOKES.

We learn from the Nashville Press and Times, of Thursday, that the Tennessee Convention of the G. A. R., bately in session in that city to elect delegates to the General Convention of the order, now in session in Cincinnati under the Presidency of John Louan, passed a resolution unsnimously recommending STOKES as the most eligible of the Badical candidates for Governor. This is the finishing touch to SENTER'S career. It arena as a foregone conclusion. He had an opportunity of making for himself a great reputation; he has allowed it to pass, preferring to rule for a while as a king of the commons than to be recognized as a prer among the best. STOKES has received the votes of the so-called old. soldiers of the army, and the negroes, and doubtless, as we hinted just week, has private assurances from BROWNLOW.
